Profile:

My career initially started in Architecture, working for practices that specialised in national house building, retail, distribution centres and finally large high quality fit out projects in London. My desire to be involved in the wider business agenda then took me away from design and into an operations role, where I was sponsored to complete an MBA at Warwick University in 2002. With new business skills I returned into the construction industry, where I have remained ever since, working in roles from business development, bidding, preconstruction, programming, commercial. Progressing into senior roles with overall accountability for divisions, groups and accountability for P&L and operations.

I have been fortunate to spent over 17 years operating at board level, managing strategy, finance, business planning, business change, organisational development and fundamentally growth. I consider myself to be versatile having benefited from experience working in larger PLC's to SME's. I feel confident operating in a client facing position and this has enabled me to be successful in unlocking strategic clients and building account management plans. I have also enjoyed the rewards of several years in leadership coaching and thrive on challenge and success.

Jan 2015 – March 2017 Executive Director - Commercial
June 2013 – Jan 2015 Commercial Director

Returning to Paragon as Commercial Director I was responsible for pre contract sales, design, estimating and bidding. Promoted to Executive Director after two years when the business doubled, expanding to new offices in Manchester, Birmingham and London. Expanding the business mix into new build and major projects I was asked to lead this new business unit, including full operational control of the London offices. Projects including student accommodation, commercial, industrial and manufacturing. Secured and delivered £70m of new projects in the subsequent 18 months, managing a 40 strong team, with full P&L responsibility.

Roles & Responsibility	Key Achievements

Health & Safety	Completed a 3 year leadership coaching programme

Interserve Plc
Oct 2011 – June 2013 Regional Building Bid Manager

Joining a £2.2b construction organisation with the head office in Birmingham my role was to lead large complex bid strategies for construction projects ranging from £2m - £40m. Leading a team of specialists from estimating, architects, M&E through to industry experts such as educationalists. Securing strategic frameworks in Healthcare, Education, MOJ, MOD and Nuclear. Managed over £200m in new bids, securing 1 – 3 projects, including new Hospitals, Schools and Data Centres. Part of strategic land and development team, securing projects through fund management and joint ventures.

Project Programming	Secured first development deal through JV and SPV

Paragon Interiors Plc
July 2009 – June 2011 Pre Construction Director

Accountable for the Pre construction teams enabled me to use my commercial skills in estimating, design management, bid strategy and securing new business. Winning national frameworks with Jaguar Land Rover, Barclays, Capita and a number of Universities. Responsible for sales and bid strategies including leadership of a team of Architects, Interior designers and graphic artists.

Roles & Responsibility	Key Achievements
Main Board Director	70% success rate on tenders
Design Management	Increased business growth by 20%
Commercial Management / Estimating / Contracts	Created core sector specialism
Bid strategy and management	Redeveloped work winning and target marketing
Sales and key client services	Formed new build division
Programming and methodology	Secured multiple frameworks

ISG Plc
Jan 2006 – Aug 2009 Bid Manager

Initially employed as the regional BDM, I was responsible for the entire work wining for the Midlands region. This included exceeding monthly bid conversions, achieved by managing a self-generated £950m pipeline. As the conversion rate of new opportunities was poor, I was invited to lead several bids, which quickly became my primary role and function. I was invited by the ISG Board to lead several National key accounts including Network Rail, and Barclays, requiring me to chair meetings with divisional board directors on a regular basis. Reporting directly to a ISG main board director.

Roles & Responsibility	Key Achievements
Securing pipeline	Developed £950m pipeline in 2 years
Bid Management	Improved conversion rate from 5% to 30%
Account management and frameworks	Secured £90m of new projects
Bid strategy and management	Secured 2 national frameworks
Programming and methodology	Mentored project teams for work winning

Havelock Europa Plc
April 2002 – Jan 2006 PFI Sales Manager / Senior Management Board
IT & Operations Manager / Senior Management Board

My role was to target and manage new business opportunities in the PFI / PPP and BSF markets by working with Architects, Main Contractors, FF&E Contractors and Local Authorities. I maintained good relations with several principle contractors and architects and operated effectively in the construction arena. Working closely with the marketing team in order to identify and target key sectors, buying trends and preferred procurement routes. I also managed the integration between ESA and Stage Systems. I was part of the strategic management team, which reported to Plc Board, and Director of the education division.

As the IT and Operations manager, I formed part of the senior management board and was ultimately responsible for the operation of the business from Information technology through to distribution, materials and procurement.

Architecture Technology Interiors (London)
March 2000 – April 2002 Project Architect (Associate Director)

ATI was an Architecture and interior design practice that worked primarily with Blue chip clients including LIFFE, Stock Exchange, PWC, International Petroleum Exchange and Freshfields. I was employed as the project architect which involved the design, client presentations / negotiations and project management of several high-profile and value office fit outs. Working closely with the main contractors and subcontractors ensuring the projects were delivered in line with very tight timelines. Most of the fit outs exceeded £10m and relationships with the clients were at stakeholder level. I was responsible for a small team of direct reports both onsite and in the office.

Chetwood Associates Ltd
Jan' 97 - March 2000 Project Architect - Freelance

Chetwood Associates was a practice that specialised in retail distribution and logistics hubs. As the project architect I was responsible for feasibility, design and project management of new builds. Key clients include ASDA, and Disney at Magna Park. The builds were traditionally steel frame with composite cladding with dock levellers and on-site offices. Leasing with land and property developers such as Gazeley Properties including local authorities to agree concepts and feasibility. Working with contractors for tender submissions and standard form contracts. Client liaison and site meetings to check progress and to issue architects' instructions.

KRT Associates
Oct '95 - Jan '97 Assistant Architect - Freelance

The practice was primarily focused on the design and delivery of residential projects, working for both national house builders such as McLean Homes and Abbey Homes. During my employment, I was responsible for preparing the new standard house types for a series of developments, working closely with the client team to align the product commercially and aesthetically. Preparing master plan schemes for feasibility and final development schemes.

W.H. Saunders Architects
June '95 - Oct '95 Assistant Architect

I was employed for a fixed term as an Architectural Assistant, working extensively on ACAD R12 and AECR4.0. I was involved in Commercial and Leisure related architecture. From Concept design through to full finished working drawings.

Interests:

I am a competitive person who naturally enjoys all sport. In my younger years I represented my city in both Rugby and Cross-Country Running, now just enjoying the trail running. With two teenage daughters and a busy home and work life I enjoy the escape of watching the World Rally Championship in Europe.

I am the Vice Chairman of my Local Parish Council and am responsible for all planning matters.

I am a very practical hands on person having designed and built our family home, when not covered in building dust I have my hands in oil restoring our 1973 Triumph Spitfire, which I have rebuilt into a race-tuned classic. I also have a very understanding wife.
